Horror Direction

To succeed as an art director on a game, it is not necessary to replicate reality using realistic sprites and the like. You need to be creative and have a good command of pixel art in order to produce horror animations, gory designs and illustrations in pixel art, and so on.

Visual effects are crucial for immersing the player in our game world. That’s why we’ve decided to focus on brightness, lighting, effects and so on.